Dear Parents of Miss Lammert's 4th Grade Classroom,

We have successfully gotten back into the swing of school again after a week of testing! ☺ Also, the students continuously impress me! They have done an amazing job with their parts at the Masses this week. Just to let you know, we will have a Spelling test tomorrow and a Religion test on Friday. There was a Spelling worksheet assigned tonight that is to be completed with a parent and signed by a parent. This is to be used as a review for their test. In English, we just began a writing unit on personal narratives. The students will be writing their own personal narrative and they already seem to be enjoying the concept! I cannot wait to read these! ☺

Also, do not forget to sign their hot pink Reading Counts sheets this week. If there are lines through the boxes that means they did not test at all that particular week. Please sign these papers and return them to school in their blue folders. I have encouraged the students to read nightly. The students are given time throughout the school day to read, however, it is important for the students to read at home as well in order for each of them to meet their goal. Remember, there was no progress reports sent home this year. Instead, I encourage you to login to Engrade to view your child's grades. These grades include every assignment from this quarter up to this point in time. If you have any questions about this new procedure, about your password, or about the grades in general just let me know. Feel free to email me or give me a call!

Next week is going to be eventful! Just a reminder, the Book Fair is from October 3rd- October 7th. The Book Fair Family Night will be on October 6th. This will also be Open House. Please be thinking of what time you would like to meet for conferences because you will sign up on Open House night. Also, Friday October 7th is a 1:00 PM dismissal day and a Spirit Day! ☺

Thanks so much for everything, and again if you have any questions please feel free to email me or give me a call! I want to thank you again for being such great partners in your child's education!

God Bless,

Miss Lauren Lammert
